He got his mount all but left at the post and then rushed him out after the pacemaker, Jessie Jarboe. This took all the run out of Prince of Endurance and he had nothing to finish with. The race was won by Jessie Jarboe, who was as good as g to 1 in the betting. The stewards are still investigating the Hicks case. The jockey to-day stated that the horses were "dead" under him when he was beaten on Tuesday.

Sam Hildreth, who purchased the Schorr horses that were raced here this winter, among them being Commissioner Forster, lost him after he won the last race. He was run up to $1,700 by W. W. Finn. This was $1,000 over his entered price. Sam Hildreth started three horses to-day and two were returned winners. The talent and the bookmakers broke even to-day.

R. Williams, in the third race, by overconfidence or laziness, threw away the race and also burned up a ton of money for the public. Williams rode Alfred C, the favorite, and after getting him practically left at the post took things easy coming down the stretch, and was beaten a head on the post. The race was won by Vesuvia, who was played down from 50 to 1 to 20 to 1 and was considered somewhat of a good thing.

Andes, in the second race, was returned an easy winner. Harry Wilson, the favorite, managed to secure the place. Commissioner Forster was the favorite in the closing event. He came home all alone. Optimo, the second choice, ran out at the head of the stretch, but was good enough to secure the place from the others.

merican League Mosts Monday—National League Men Pray for Consolidation.

President Ban Johnson, who has arrived in Chicago, has called a meeting of the American League to be held in that city next Monday, the object being the appointment of a com-mittee to meet the National League's peace-makers at Cincinnati on Jan. 5. After the peace conference the American League will undoubtedly hold another meeting in this city, at which the final arrangements for the new club here will be completed. The National League men continue to clamor for a consolidation with the American and the reestablishment of the twelve-club circuit. A. H. Soden of the Boston Nationals says that the plan, which has not yet been publicly approved by Johnson & Co., may go through. Soden declares that he is ready to sell out to the Boston Americans and that he and his partners, Conant and Billings, will accept stock in the rival club as part of the accept stock in the rival club as part of the transaction. In case the deal is male, the old South End grounds, which are owned by the Boston triumvirs, will be sold to the New York, New Haven and Hartford road, which has desired the property for a long time.

Rench and Rogers, owners of the Philadelphia National League club, are also anxious to get out of baseball and have expressed a willingness to dispose of their plant to the owners of the Athletics in that city. Reach and Rogers own a 2250,000 ball park, which can be cut up into building lots, if necessary, at a large profit. As part of this consolidation scheme, Hanlon and Pulliam have been inspecting the vacated American League grounds in Baltimore, for they believe that the Monumental City will be included in the new circuit.

the Monumental City will be included in the new circuit.

Brush of the New York Nationals is pulling all sorts of wires to keep the American League out of this city. He has secured options on three possible sites on Manhattan Island, and is now in favor, it is said, of making Ban Johnson president of the proposed twelve-club circuit. The turning down of Brush's offer to turn over Manhattan Field to the American League has convinced the National Leaguers that something must be done quickly. In order to put through the twelve-club scheme the American League would be asked to put up more than $100,000, and basebell men who know say that Johnson & Co. will not seriously consider the proposition, for they believe that they have already won the fight for supremacy and can go ahead with the old arrangement on a money-making basis.

Before leaving here for the West, Johnson, the old arrangement on a money-making basis.

Before leaving here for the West, Johnson, Somers and Kilfoyle were emphatic in saying that under no circumstances would they consent to anything but two major leagues, and that if the National League would not agree to that proposition the fight would go on to a finish. The eagerness of the National League men for peace, involving a settlement by which they might be personally benefited, may serve to give to the American League increased backbone in dictating terms.

WEEKES AND MORLEY HONORED. Remarkable Demonstration at Mass Meeting of Columbia Students.

The largest and most enthusiastic mass meeting ever held at Columbia University took place in Earl Hall yesterday as a tribute to William R. Morley, head coach of the football team and ex-Capt Harold H. Weekes, who has played his last game for Columbia. Prof. J. Howard Van Amringe, '80, dean of the college, presided and spoke in glowing terms of the present high plane of Columbia athletics and the benefits of athletics for college men. He alluded to Weekes as the greatest football player of the day and to Morley as an ideal coach.

Capt. Richard S Smith of the 1903 elever conveyed to Morley the thanks of the university for his voluntary services this fall. He sity for his voluntary services this fail. He alluded to the lack of sympathy on the part of the faculty committee on athletics, saying that "Morley took the part of the Columbia men, even though he was an athlete." Smith urged Morley to return as head coach next year and his remarks were followed by prolonged cheering.

When Morley rose to speak the students sang:

It's Mr. Morley, it's Mr. Morley He's the greatest coach Columbia ever saw: So energetic, and so athletic Is Mr. Morley orley, orley or.

Is Mr. Morley orley, orley or.

Morley was greatly affected by his reception and spoke of the new Columbia spirit to fight to the end, which received impetus from the year's defeats.

A. B. A. Bradley, '04, law, then presented a large silver loving cup to Capt. Weekes, which represented the voluntary subscriptions of hundreds of Columbia students. The speaker reviewed Weekes's career on the gridiron, pointing out how he scored the touchdowns which defeated Yale, Princeton and Pennsylvania in 1899, 1900 and 1901, respectively. and remnsylvatia in 1898, 1808 and 1891, respectively.

In responding Weekes expressed his regret that his football career at Columbia was over, but promised to play on the scrub next fall and help build up the team. When Weekes had finished speaking Prof. Van Amringe made the announcement that Morley had just decided to return as head coach next year. The scene which followed was remarkable. Hats and books were thrown in the air, men stood on the seats and cheered continuously for several minutes, repeating the "Six Columbia's" for Morley, Weekes, Smith and "Van Am," over and over again. Fully 600 men attended the meeting.

Matheson, Grand Rapids, and Percy Owen, New York

Matheson, Grand Rapids, and Percy Owen, New York.

It is known that Winton and Owen will take Winton racers and that Mooers will use a specially built Peerless. The cars of the other two are unknown factors. Mr. Harkness positively declines to say what sort of a machine he will start except that it will be the product of an established factory. Mr. Matheson will take a machine of his own design that is not yet known to the market It will have four eight by ten cylinders and develop 150 horse power.

Aute Club Dinner.

The annual dinner of the Automobile Chib of America will be held at the Waldorf-Astoria on Jan. 24 and the guests are assured Astoria on Jan. 24 and the guests are assured of a well-spiced post-prandial course by the following partial list of speakers: Augustus Thomas. Simeon Ford and Job Hedges; State Senator W. L. Armstrong, Congressman W. P. Brownlow of Tennessee and Congressman James Sherman; W. E. McClintock, Highway Commissioner of Massachusetts; H. I. Budd, Highway Commissioner of New Jersey; Edward A. Bond, New York State Engineer, and W. Pierrepont White, chairman of the Standing Committee of the New York State Board of Supervisors.

Fournier Holds Kilo Record. It appears from the official reports of the Automobile Club of France that Fournier is still the holder of the kilometer record. Fournier travelled the distance in a fixed trial in 29 1-5 seconds. Subsequently Augières did it in 29 seconds. Subsequently Au-gières did it in 29 seconds flat, but this was done while he was trying for the one-mile record and the French club refuses to recog-nize records made in that way. In the trials made on Staten Island, May 31 under the auspices of the Automobile Club, the kilometer records were allowed, even though a mile was the objective distance of the trials.

No Room for French Autos. Henri Fournier cabled to the managers of the coming automobile show yesterday ask-ing for space. He said that he would sail for America on Jan. 8 and wanted to bring an exhibit of French machines. A reply by cable informed him that there was not an inch of space in the Garden left to sell.

Duffy to Run at Irish Games.

Arthur F. Duffy, the only sprinter to cover 100 yards in 9 3-5 seconds, will run at the games Square Garden, on Dec 27. He will start in the 60 yard handicap and it is stated will make a special trial against time as well.

A Trade-Mark Talk

The Spalding trade-mark has been the recognized standard in athletics for over a quarter of a century. The boy appreciates it on any article athletic simply because among his playmates its value is known, and the article takes its place as the best. Experts and champions at different sports always insist upon using an implement bearing Spalding's name-for the trade-mark stamps the article as official and correct. The everyday sportsman who exercises for health and recreation values the article bearing the Spalding trade-mark for the amount of use he can get out of it, for Spalding's implements are made to stand the wear and tear required of

A good trade-mark, built on honesty and fair dealing, always has imitators - a sort of a follow-theleader crowd-that offer every day some substitute for Spalding's trade-marked articles as "just as good."

Be wise, and in purchasing your gifts for the holidays insist that Spalding's trade-mark is on your purchase. A gift athletic is appreciated only by the ones who are athletically inclined, and doubly so if it bears the Spalding trade-mark.
